A D D R E S S.

The favourable reception which both the Press and the Public have been pleased to give to the "SHILLING PEERAGE" first encouraged the Editor to prepare the "SHILLING BARONETAGE," the "SHILLING KNIGHTAGE," and the "SHILLING HOUSE OF COMMONS," on a similar plan. He is conscious that even in the present issue of works like these, small as they are, many errors and discrepancies must occur; but he can safely say, that against these he has guarded, not only by stores of information carefully sought out from private sources, and accumulated during many years, but by submitting his statements as to the facts and dates to the kind correction of the families most nearly interested in their accuracy. For the readiness with which a very large portion of these, or members of their families, have answered the points specified in the circulars which have been severally forwarded to them, the Editor cannot be too grateful; and he would be wanting in his duty were he not here to record his thanks for their kindness.

THE HOUSE OF LORDS.

THE House of Lords or Peers (for the terms are used indifferently) is the second of the three bodies which together are said to compose the British legislature—King (or Queen), Lords, and Commons. Its origin, which in fact is that of the British Parliament, is involved in obscurity. The House of Lords must be regarded as the natural development of the state of things existing under the Feudal System, when the King ranked as but “primus inter pares,” the first among his Peers or equals,* namely, the nobles who held their lands of the Crown by the tenure of military service. The very existence of the term “landlord,” as used in the present time, is enough to show that in the earlier days of English history the ideas of territorial possession and nobility were closely connected; and we find, as a matter of fact, that it was the tenure of certain lands which constituted a Noble of the Realm, in the centuries immediately succeeding the Norman Conquest.

The House of Lords, however, is of even older date than this, and has been traced by antiquaries and historians to the very earliest foundations of the British constitution, which were laid in the old Saxon times. It is, in fact, the magnum concilium of the early English chroniclers. It is clear, from the historical records of those centuries, that, under the Saxon Kings, the Thanes or Nobles, together with the Bishops, were the chief advisers of the King, constituting a body not unlike the Privy Council of our own day. To these in succeeding centuries, as the wealth, education, and intelligence of the nation increased, were added the representatives of the counties, cities, and boroughs of England; and it was not until about the reign of Edward I. that the latter body seems to have become a distinct assembly, and to have been termed the House of Commons, or the Lower House of Parliament. Some historians, indeed, as Elysyng, assert that "the Commons ever held a place for the consultation apart from the Lords;" but this statement is distinctly denied by Sir Edward Coke, who states that he had seen a record, dated in the 30th year of King Henry I. (A.D. 1130), of their degre and seats as one body, and affirms that the separation took place at the desire of the Commons. From that time to this no very material change has taken place in the constitution of the Upper House. Since the House of Peers, in conjunction with the Sovereign and the House of Commons, composes the supreme legislative body of Great Britain, the consent of each of these three bodies is required in order to give to any resolution the force of law. The voice of the majority in either House binds the whole.

* A singular instance of this equality between the Sovereign and the members of the English Peerage is to be found in the fact that, previous to the reign of Henry VIII, the daughters of both King and Peer were designated by the same title of “Lady.” Thus the daughters of Henry VII were styled the “Lady” Margaret, and the “Lady” Mary. The title of Princess was only gradually adopted; the daughters of Henry VIII being occasionally styled the Lady Mary and the Lady Elizabeth.

In addition, however, to its legislative functions, the House of Lords has a judicial character, the virtue of which it exercises the ultimate jurisdiction in matters of appeal from the supreme courts of Great Britain and Ireland. It also has the privilege of trying criminal cases on impeachment in the House of Commons, and also its own members on indictments found against them by the grand jury.

Jury. In one discharge of these duties, the House om has the power of requiring the attendance of the der Judges and the Law Officers of the Crown, to assist her its decisions with their legal counsel.

It is right here to notice a few points in which the House of Lords differs from the Lower House of Parliament. The Lord Chancellor for the time being sits in the Upper House as Speaker. When the Sovereign goes to open, prorogue, or dissolve Parliament, he takes his seat upon the royal throne, and the Commons are summoned into his presence, there to receive the communication of his royal will and pleasure. All Bills which in any way affect the dignities of the Peerage must originate in the Upper House. Each member of the House of Lords had formerly the right of voting by proxy upon all measures, except in Committee; but this privilege was abolished, or, at all events, set aside by a standing order of the House in 1868. Peers have also the privilege of entering upon the journals of the House their dissent from any measure which has received the sanction of the majority, together with their reasons for dissenting. This is called their Protest.*

The House of Lords is frequently divided into the Spiritual and Temporal Peers; the latter being distinguished according to their rank by the titles of Duke, Marquis, Earl, Viscount, and Baron.
Of the Spiritual Peers, Archbishops take precedence of all Dukes, except those of the Blood Royal;
while Bishops rank next above Barons. The military titles of Duke (Dux), and Marquis (Marchio, March-grave, or Margrave, as the governors of borders or frontier provinces were termed), are derived from the dignities which existed many centuries

* This Protest, however, must be entered on the Journals of the House within forty-eight hours after the objectionable resolution has been passed.

ago in the Western Empire; while those of Earl (Eorl or Ealderman) and Baron are of genuine Saxon origin.* The former of these has been identified with the Count† (comes) of Western Europe. The title of Viscount, which originally signified the Count's deputy, was first made a degree of honour during the reign of Henry VI.

The Peerage of Great Britain and Ireland admits also of the following classification:—1st, Peers of England; i.e., those whose titles bear date anterior to the union with Scotland in 1707; of whom the Duke of Norfolk, as Earl of Arundel (circ. 1139), is the premier. 2nd, Peers of Scotland; i.e., those enjoying the Peerage in that country before its union with England; of whom the Duke of Sutherland, as Earl of Sutherland and Baron Strathnaver (1228), is the premier. 3rd, Peers of Ireland; i.e., created before the Union in the year 1800; of whom the Earl of Howth, as Baron of Howth (1177), is the most ancient. 4th, Peers of Great Britain; i.e., those created between the years 1707 and 1800. 5th,

* It has been observed, as a proof of the overwhelming influence of the Norman invaders upon our old Saxon constitution, that, "though the titles of Duke and Earl may be traced to an age antecedent to the extinction of the Saxon dynasties, yet a long period elapsed after the conquest before any other degrees of nobility than that of Baron and Knight were established in England." This, however, though generally, was not universally the case; for we read of Earls of Gloucester, Cornwall, Pembroke, Albemarle, Leicestershire, &c., in the reigns of King John and Henry III. It might be added that the titles of Baron and Knight were common in England and continental nations.

† The Earl, or Count as he was more frequently called after the Norman Conquest, held jurisdiction (something like our Lord-Lieutenants) over a certain territory of larger or smaller extent, which was hence called a County. The term still remains, though the relation between the district and its Count has long ceased. In course of time the Saxon title of "Earl" prevailed again, and until the last two centuries has generally been derived from some particular locality.

Peers of the United Kingdom; i.e., those created since the union of the three kingdoms. And 6th, those of the Episcopal Bench; now consisting of the two Archbishops and twenty-four English and Welsh Bishops. Previous to the Reformation, the Spiritual Peers consisted of two Priors and twenty-seven Abbots in addition to the Bishops, who at that time considerably outnumbered the Temporal Peers. The Spiritual Peers now consist of all English and Welsh Bishops, with the exception of the six Junior Bishops for the time being.* The Bishops of London and Durham, by virtue of a statute passed 31 Henry VIII., and the Bishop of Winchester, as Prelate of the Order of the Garter, rank before all other Bishops. The Bishop of Sodor and Man ranks last, and has a seat, but no vote, in the Upper House. In the House of Lords, all Peers of England have seats and votes; so have those of Great Britain and the United Kingdom, though the locality from which their title is taken may be either Irish or Scotch.† It also frequently happens that Peers of England or of the United Kingdom hold a superior rank in the Peerages of Scotland or Ireland; in which case, though popularly known by the higher dignity, they still sit and vote in the House by their inferior rank. The Peers of Scotland and Ireland‡ have a place in the House only for their representatives, of which Ireland sends

* This exception, however, does not include the Prelates of London, Durham, and Winchester, who are always members of the House of Peers from the day of their consecration.

† Great care must be taken not to suppose that the locality always determines the Peerage to be English, Irish, or Scotch. Thus, though Teignmouth is in Devon, Lord Teignmouth is an Irish Peer; while Macduff, Earl of Fife—a name certainly well known in the annals of Scotland—enjoys an English and an Irish Peerage, but not a Scotch one.

‡ Irish Peers may sit in the Lower House for British constituencies; Scotch Peers also may represent a county or borough in England.

twenty-eight and Scotland sixteen. The Scotch Representative Peers are chosen with every new Parliament; the Irish Representative Peers are elected for life. Peers of Scotland and Ireland are no longer created.

By the Judicature Act of 1876, the Queen is empowered to create a certain number of Life Peerages in favour of Judges whose services are required in the House of Lords, sitting as the Supreme Court of Appeal. The only Life Peerages which have been so created are those of Lords Blackburn, Gordon (ext.), Watson, Fitzgerald, and Macnaghten.

By the Act of Union, no Peer enjoying a British dignity can be elected a Representative Peer for Ireland; but in the case of a Representative Peer being elevated to that of the United Kingdom, no vacancy is caused thereby. Scotch Peers take precedence of British Peers of the same rank created since the union with Scotland; and Irish Peers created before the union with Ireland, in like manner take precedence of British Peers created since. Irish Peers of later creation than the Union, rank according to the dates of the patent, among the Peers of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

It should be observed that the House of Peers, properly speaking, consists only of such members of Peerage as, otherwise having a right to sit in the House, are neither minors nor insane, neither females nor bankrupts.

A few of the eldest sons of Peers occasionally sit in the House of Lords by a different title from their title of courtesy, being "called" in their father's Baronies.

In the following list of Peers, the date of creation prefixed to each name applies simply to the present title, and not to the period when the family name was first associated with the Peerage.

DR. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE.

THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY GENUINE.

Is admitted by the Profession to be the most wonderful and valuable remedy ever discovered.

Is the best remedy known for Coughs, Consumption, Bronchitis, Asthma, Fever, Effectually cures and arrests those often fatal diseases—Diphtheria, Fever, Croup, &c.

Acts like a charm in Diarrhoea, and is the only specific in Cholera and Dysentery. Effectually cures short all attacks of Epilepsy, Hysteria, Paroxysm, and Seizures. Is the only palliative in Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Gout, Cancer, Hydrocephalus, Menigitis, &c.

From SYMES & CO., Pharmaceutical Chemists, MEDICAL HALL, SHIMI, Jan. 5, 1880.
TO J. T. DAVENPORT, Esq., 33, Great Russell Street, BLOOMSBURY, LONDON.

DEAR SIR.—We embrace this opportunity of congratulating you on the widespread reputation which this justly esteemed medicine, Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne, has earned for itself, not only in Hindostan, but all over the East. As a remedy of general utility, we much question whether a better is imported into the country, and we shall be glad to hear of its finding a place in every Anglo-Indian home. The other brands, we are happy to say, are now relegated to the native bazaars; and, judging from their sale, we fancy their sojourn there will not be evanescent. We could multiply instances of the extraordinary efficacy of Dr. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne in Diarrhoea and Dysentery, Seizures, Cramps, Neuralgia, the Vomiting of Pregnancy, and as a general sedative, that have occurred under our personal observation during many years. In Choleræ Diarrœa and in the more terrible forms of Cholera itself, we have witnessed its surprisingly controlling power. We have never used any other form of this medicine than Collis Browne's, from a firm conviction that its substitution of any other than Collis Browne's is a palpitate blunder.

Caution.—Beware of Piracy and Imitation.

SOLE MANUFACTURER.—J. T. DAVENPORT, 33, GREAT RUSSELL STREET, BLOOMSBURY, LONDON.

Members of the Pharm. Society of Great Britain, His Excellency and Viceroy's Chemists.

Sold in Bottles at 1s, 1*l*. 2*s*, 9*l*. 4*s*, 6*d*, and 1*s*, each. None is genuine without the words "Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne" on the Government Stamp. Overwhelming Medical Testimony accompanies each bottle.

CHURCH OF ENGLAND SCRIPTURE READERS' ASSOCIATION

INSTITUTED 1844.

Offices: 56, HAYMARKET, LONDON, W.

PATRONS:

HIS GRACE THE ARCHBISHOP OF CANTERBURY; AND THE BISHOPS OF LONDON, WINCHESTER, ROCHESTER, AND ST. ALBANS.

TREASURER—SIR WALTER R. FARQUHAR, BART.

OBJECT.—The salvation of immortal souls; and to bring the glad tidings of the Gospel to the sick and suffering.

NECESSITY.—The appalling spiritual destitution existing amongst the masses, millions of whom never attend any place of worship, and thus never hear the sound of the GOSPEL, except it be carried to their doors.

MEANS.—The employment of approved godly men as Scripture Readers, under the superintendence of the Parochial Clergy, who visit the poor from house to house, and read to them the Word of God. The Readers also undertake the conduct of Bible Classes and Cottage Lectures, report cases of sickness and distress, assist in Temperance Work, Open-Air Services, Prayer Meetings, Tract Distribution, &c., and help generally in the spiritual work of their respective parishes.

Nearly 130 Readers are thus labouring; many of them in the lowest and most degraded localities in London.

SUBSCRIPTIONS and DONATIONS are urgently required and will be gratefully received by the Bankers, Messrs. HERRIES, FARQUHAR, and Co., 16, St. James's Street, S.W.; or by the Secretary, at the Offices of the Association.

T. MARTIN TILBY, Lay Secretary.

FORM OF BEQUEST.

I give and bequeath to the Treasurer, for the time being, of a Society in London, called "THE CHURCH OF ENGLAND SCRIPTURE READERS' ASSOCIATION," the sum of _____, to be paid, free of Legacy Duty, out of my pure personal estate, to be applied towards the general purposes of the said Association.

THE HAMILTON ASSOCIATION FOR PROVIDING TRAINED MALE NURSES,

22, South Audley Street, London, W.

THIS ASSOCIATION is established for the purpose of providing Trained Male Nurses as attendants on male patients in hospitals and infirmaries, on male residents in chambers when sick, and on male members of private families. It is hoped that, in addition to men in civil life to be specially trained for the above purposes, employment may be found for qualified persons who have already served their full time as hospital attendants in the Army, Navy, and Auxiliary Forces. No attempt at interference with the beneficent ministrations of women is contemplated, but Hospital Surgeons and others know too well that in many cases females ought to be spared from painful scenes and duties for which they are unfitted on account of decorum or of inferior physical strength.

Private patients (in town or country) are supplied with trained Male Nurses at rates varying from ONE to FOUR GUINEAS WEEKLY, according to the severity of the case and the experience of the nurse sent. Also MEDICAL RUBBERS (massieurs) by day or hour.

For further particulars apply to the Medical Superintendent.

Her Royal Highness the PRINCESS MARY ADELAIDE, DUCHESS OF TECK.

The Dowager Duchess of Roxburgh. The Dowager
Countess of Aberdeen. The Countess of Winterton.
The Viscountess Hampden. The Lady Wantage.

President,

His Grace the LORD ARCHBISHOP OF CANTERBURY.

THE COMMITTEE earnestly and hopefully APPEAL to the benevolent public for FUNDS to meet the heavy current expenses and to COMPLETE the much-needed NEW WING, which, when finished, will place thirty additional beds at their disposal for the use of poor and suffering convalescents, irrespective of class or creed.

With systems shattered by exhausting diseases or surgical operations, and too weak for work; when wages have ceased through illness; when the heart fails and relapse is imminent, it must be evident to those who are so blessed as to be able to command, in their hour of need, every restorative which ample means can procure, how absolutely essential are the blessings of pure and bracing sea air, unlimited diet of the best quality, and careful medical supervision to those of their less fortunate brethren who IN THEIR HOUR OF NEED are too often unable to provide the bare necessities of life.

THIS HOME has, under Divine blessing, already assisted about 13,500 poor and deserving convalescents to regain health, strength, and power to resume their avocations.

DONATIONS and SUBSCRIPTIONS will be thankfully received by the Secretary. Cheques to be crossed Messrs. Coutts and Co.

For Delivering Poor Married Women at their own Habitations.

CHARITY'S HOUSE:—31, FINSBURY SQUARE, E.C.

Patron.

HER MAJESTY THE QUEEN.

PRESIDENT—THE DUKE OF ARGYLL, K.G.

TREASURER—SIR JOHN LUBBOCK, BART., M.P., F.R.S., &c.

THIS INSTITUTION is the oldest and largest Lying-in Charity in Great Britain. More than 4000 poor Women are annually relieved at the most critical period of their lives, without removal from their own homes, a great boon to the poor, as no one need be reminded of the importance of a mother's presence in a poor man's family.

Under this system of home-ministration none are denied for want of room, as, in the words of the noble President, "all London is the Charity's Hospital, and every street a Ward." In fact there is no limit to the Charity's operations, save the want of sufficient funds.

The Trustees have been compelled to sell out a large amount of the funded property, and there is still a serious deficiency.

DONATIONS will be thankfully received by the Treasurer, 15, Lombard Street, E.C., or at the Charity's House, 31, Finsbury Square, E.C., by

J. W. LONG, Secretary.

FORM OF BEQUEST.

"I give and bequeath to the Treasurer for the time being of THE ROYAL MATERNITY CHARITY, Finsbury Square, London, the sum of _____, for the use of the said Charity, and I desire that the said sum be paid, free of Legacy Duty, exclusively out of my Personal Estate."

The Committee of this truly excellent Charity earnestly plead for increase of funds to maintain the Fatherless Girls, of whom there are now about one hundred under its care; and they regret to state that, though the Building is capable of receiving another 50 of these poor Orphans, they are obliged to refuse painfully pressing demands for admission.

DONATIONS, especially ANNUAL SUBSCRIPTIONS, will be thankfully received by Messrs. HERRIES & Co., Bankers, 16, St. James's Street; by the Treasurer; and by the Secretary (to whom all communications should be addressed), at the Office, 12, Pall Mall, S.W.

THIS SOCIETY, founded in 1838, seeks to reclaim Young Women from all parts of the Country, who have, by one false step, fallen from the path of virtue. They are cared for in their trouble if expecting to become mothers; and, after suitable training, are placed in service, where needful help is given towards supporting their infants, lest, through want, they should fall again. This is the more necessary from the extreme youth of many of the applicants, which prevents their earning sufficient to maintain their infants.

ASSETS, January, 1888 . . .	£17,578,938
SURPLUS (over)	£3,750,886

The following is an actual result of a Tontine Policy maturing in 1889:—

Policy No. 87,871, issued February 13th, 1874, on the life of J. R. M., age 24 years.

Amount of Policy, £1,000. Annual Premium, £66 0s. 10d., payable 15 years.

Total Premiums paid during 15 years, £990 12s. 6d., cash returned to J. R. M., £1,426 12s. 3d.

J. R. M. therefore was during 15 years insured for £1,000; had he died at any time during this period his beneficiary would have received £1,000. Not having died during this period he received himself at the end of it in cash £1,426 12s. 3d., that is to say, £435 19s. 9d. more than the premiums paid by him during this time.

In other words, he has enjoyed the benefits of Insurance gratuitously, and accumulated £66 0s. 10d. a year increased by compound interest.
